WILL PROSECUTE CASE VIGOROUSLY

CHARGE AGAINST MRS. GILMORE FILED LATE TODAY.

STATE WILL PLEAD IMPENDING DIVORCE

Sawyers Will Contend That Since Legal Separation Was Imminent, Defendant Wasn't Justified.

An affidavit formally charging Mrs. Q. A. Gilmore with murder in the first degree will be filed by Prosecuting Attorney Sawyers late this afternoon. He had expected to file it this morning, but as he had a case in Justice Johnson's court he could not attend to it. Mrs. Gilmore shot Mrs. Ella Shipps Wednesday morning at the depot, accusing her of breaking up her home.

The state will prosecute vigorously, Mr. Sawyers said. He will contend that Mrs. Gilmore's pending suit for divorce filed in March, and which is uncontested and would have been granted at the next term of court, is almost equivalent to complete legal separation, and Mrs. Gilmore should have had little or no interest in the acts of her husband.

Mr. Sawyers has been busy running down rumors, but said today they were not facts in the case.

Mrs. Gilmore has been conferring several times with her attorneys, Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison, and talked freely about the case to them. However, she doesn't say anything about the shooting except to her attorneys. While she appears coolly unconcerned, yet she has been very depressed and her actions for the past several months have been that way. Her husband called on her at the county jail yesterday morning and also talked to her over the phone. Mr. Gilmore also talked briefly to her attorneys.

Today was Mrs. Gilmore's birthday. It would have also been the birthday of Mrs. Shipps.

Mrs. Shipps left $4,220 in insurance. She had a policy in the Prudential Life Insurance company, one in the Woodmen Circle, the Yeomen and the Royal Neighbors.

STOLEN FORD IS FOUND

Car Taken at Shenandoah Fair Discovered 4 Miles South of Hopkins — Thief Escapes.

A stolen Ford auto, which was taken at the Shenandoah fair yesterday was discovered this morning four miles south of Hopkins. As the car was out of gasoline, it was thought that the party who stole the car left it there and made his escape across the fields.

E. C. Moberly, who is running a jitney at the Shenandoah fair, accompanied the deputy sheriff of that county to Maryville last evening on a hunt for the car. The owners coat was still in the car when the car was found near Hopkins.

SHERIFF GOES TO ELMO.

Wallace Will Investigate the Recent Car Steal.

Sheriff Ed Wallace went today to Elmo, where it is thought he is making an investigation and examining several cars. Two men from Lincoln, Neb., were in the city this afternoon looking for a car that had been stolen in that city.

Arkoe Sluggers Win.

The Arkoe sluggers defeated Robey's Maryville Cubs by the score of 20 to 11. The batteries were: For the Sluggers, Cook and Busby; for the Cubs, McManus, Crasteen and Ferris.

BOURCK WANTS CAR BACK

Iowa Man Files Replevin Suit For Recovery of Stolen Ford, Which Was Sold to Elmo Mail Carrier.

A replevin suit was filed by F. W. Bourck of Grant, Ia., against R. O. Hallsa for the recovery of his Ford car, which was located by Sheriff Ed Wallace in the possession of Hallsa, a rural mail carrier out of Elmo. The suit was filed before Justice W. L. Johnson yesterday afternoon, but, as the value of the car is more than $250, it was necessary to file the case in the circuit court.

The petition states that the car was new, the value being about $300, and claims the defendant wrongfully holds the car from the plaintiff. Suit for the recovery of the car and for $200 damages for wrongfully detaining the car is asked for.

Pending the outcome of the trial, Bourck took his car home with him, giving bond for same. Hallsa says he purchased the car from Elmer Hamilton. Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison are the attorneys for Bourck.

ACTING GOVERNOR "ACTS"

Resignations of St. Joseph and One St. Louis Police Commissioner is Asked.

William R. Painter, acting governor of Missouri, yesterday telegraphed to Dr. U. G. Crandell and Joseph I. McDonald, police commissioners of St. Joseph, and Samuel McPheeters, a commissioner of St. Louis, demanding their resignations. The resignations were not tendered.

Dr. Crandell was reticent last night concerning the demand for resignations, but he did not appear to take the matter seriously.

"You can just say that I am thinking it over," he said laughingly.

The telegrams were practically identical. The one to Dr. Crandell read as follows:

"Hon. U. G. Crandell: I would be glad to receive your resignation as police commissioner of the city of St. Joseph by wire this day.

"(Signed) WILLIAM R. PAINTER,
"Acting Governor."

Governor Major is in Illinois on a vacation, Dr. Crandell said last night. He is understood to be at sword's points with the lieutenant governor just now. When Painter was running for the Democratic nomination for governor in the recent primaries, he made several speeches promising to "clean out" the police departments of St. Joseph, Kansas City and St. Louis if he were elected. Painter got about 200 votes in St. Joseph. This action of the lieutenant governor will doubtless bring Governor Major home before the week is out and cause a big official rumpus. The action of the lieutenant governor was entirely unexpected in Jefferson City.

FEDS WIN FROM RED OAK

Maryville Boys Take Game With Score of 7-0—Today Last Game of Tournament.

The Feds yesterday won easily from Red Oak in the Shenandoah tournament 7-0. Vaughn of Burlington Junction pitched for the Feds and Hecker of Craig did the receiving. Today is the last game of the tournament. Maryville plays Shenandoah. It will be a hard game for the Feds, but they are doped to win.

Shenandoah defeated the Imperials yesterday.

TOWNSEND RESIGNS

PRESIDENT OF BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS GIVES UP COMMISSION.

MEMBER FOUR YEARS

Has Devoted Much Time to Management of Water Plant—Resignation Voluntary.

E. L. Townsend has resigned as president of the board of public works, which is in charge of the municipal water plant. The resignation of Mr. Townsend is on account of business reasons. Mayor Robey accepted it very reluctantly.

Mr. Townsend has been a member of the board since it was created four years ago. He has given a great deal of his time to the management of the water plant and took a great interest in it.

"My resignation is voluntary on my part," said Mr. Townsend, "and there has been no dissatisfaction, as all of the members have been entirely in harmony. I have been unable to give the time necessary on account of being so busy with my business."

Mayor Robey announced that he would appoint William Armstrong, proprietor of the Armstrong foundry, to succeed Mr. Townsend. Mr. Armstrong has some knowledge of the plant. The appointment will be made at the next meeting of the council. The other members of the board are S. G. Gillam, R. L. McDougal and M. E. Ford.

SELLING 'BOOZE' AT BARNARD

Editor Rush of the Barnard Bulletin Says at Least Four Men Are Selling the Stuff There.

In this week's Barnard Bulletin, Editor John E. Rush writes:

What are you going to do about it? I mean the selling of "booze" in Barnard. I have every reason to believe that no less than four men are engaged in this unlawful practice and have been so engaged for a good long time. "Booze" was sold prior to the picnic and during the picnic just like sugar—all who had the price were served. And I have reason to believe that some has been sold or given away since them.

This is a matter that must be stopped by the people and the people alone. Appeal was made to the county and internal revenue authorities before the picnic, but the former failed to get any evidence and the latter refused to try. This puts the matter squarely up to the people—the law-abiding people of this community. What are we going to do about it?

Nearly everyone, whether he drinks or not, knows of two or three places where the stuff is sold. Nearly all know the men selling it. And a good many got it or know of its being gotten. Why do you tolerate it? Personally, I know enough to convict one "bootlegger" if the fellow could be made to testify. It will take a concerted effort on the part of all law-abiding citizens to stop this unlawful thing.

OVIE TURPIN TRIAL TODAY

Man Charged With Disturbing Peace of Richardson Family Tried in Justice Court.

Ovie Turpin was being tried this afternoon on a state charge of disturbing the peace of the family of Henry Richardson before Justice W. L. Johnson. The case is being heard by a jury composed of E. E. Tilton, Will Hughes, Omer Catterson, James Evans, Earl Kissinger and Dick Viles. Turpin and Richardson are farmers living near Bedison, and the trouble is said to have been started over Richardson getting water at the Turpin place. There were twenty-one witnesses subpoenaed, three for the defense. Prosecuting Attorney W. G. Sawyers is representing the state and Charles F. McCaffrey the defendant.

MORE CHAUTAUQUAS

HOPKINS AND BURLINGTON JUNCTION COURSES NEXT WEEK.

EXPECT RECORD CROWDS

Both Towns Solicit Patronage of Surrounding Country—Tickets For Sale at Stores.

Two more chautauquas in Nodaway county will hold forth next week for the benefit of the county people. The first one to open will be that of Hopkins, which commences Tuesday. The other one is that of Burlington Junction, which begins Wednesday.

The Hopkins Chautauqua will continue five days, and the program is such as to make the advance sale of season tickets larger than ever before, and it is now thought that fully 400 season tickets will have been sold before next Saturday night.

The secretary of the Hopkins chautauqua placed tickets at nearly all of the stores in town, so that the community boosters might have a chance to avail themselves of the early ticket sale.

Indications are that the attendance at the Hopkins chautauqua will be larger this year than at any previous chautauqua. Official programs of the chautauqua may be had by calling at any of the stores.

Has Vawter Circuit.

The Burlington Junction chautauqua will begin next Wednesday and continue five days, Quintano's great band closing the program Sunday. Those who have looked over the program carefully agree that the Vawter company is giving them the best program this year of the four years they have visited there.

There are ten musical numbers on the program this year, some of which have other entertaining features. There are five lecturers and three entertainers, including such excellent men as Judge Scoonover, Chas. H. Plattenburg, and others. Reno, the magician, will afford something unusual that will be of interest to old and young alike.

In all there are eighteen distinct numbers, which, at the price of the season ticket, $1.50, if bought in advance of the opening, will make the entertainments cost the people but 8½ cents each. It's the only real bargain offered in this time of high cost of living.

The season tickets were placed with the merchants by Rev. Horace S. Weaver, the secretary, several days ago, and a united effort should be made the remaining few days before the opening of the chautauqua to sell all the tickets possible, in order to make the venture a financial success.

The Catholic Order of Foresters of Maryville, Conception Junction and Clyde will hold a picnic at the O'Donnelly place in Conception Junction Sunday. There will be a basket dinner, a ball game and several other contests. The members of the Maryville order will make the trip on the Wabash train Sunday morning.

CHARTER IS GRANTED

FORSYTH PACKING COMPANY BECOMES CORPORATION BY LAW.

Will Go Into General Packing Business in Maryville With Capital of $25,000.

A charter was issued this week by Secretary of State Roach to the Forsyth Packing company, a corporation recently formed in Maryville. The capital stock is $25,000 and the stockholders are L. E. Forsyth, E. L. Townsend and F. M. Townsend.

The new concern will do a general packing business and has leased the Forsyth plant in East Maryville, and are rebuilding, enlarging and refitting it. New up-to-date cold storage machines have been put in.

The operation of the packing plant will be under the supervision of Mr. Forsyth, and the Townsend company will be the distributor. They will start up about the middle of October.

PIVERAL WANTS DIVORCE

Wife Seeks Separation on Desertion Charge—Wants the Custody of Children and Maintenance.

Ethel Piveral filed a divorce suit against Clarence Piveral in the circuit clerk's office this morning for the September term of court. The petition states that they were married in Nodaway county on August 2, 1902, and lived together until August 1, 1916, when the defendant abandoned her and has since refused to support her. The petition further claims that the defendant has kept company with other women, accompanying them to picture shows, dances, and taking them out car riding.

A decree of divorce and the custody and care of two children, Lester, aged 8, and Roine, aged 2, and also for support and maintenance, are prayed for. Cook, Cummins & Dawson are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

WILSON VETOES ARMY BILL

President Makes Plain to House That Clause Concerning Retired Officers is Objectionable.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Aug. 18.—President Wilson today vetoed the army appropriation bill, and at the same time sent a lengthy message to the house making plain that this action was entirely due to the incorporation into the measure of the provision that the retired officers should not be subject to the articles of war.

RAILWAY STRIKE CRISIS SERIOUS

PRESIDENT TELLS EMPLOYERS THEY MUST MAKE CONCESSIONS.

HEADS PREPARING CONVINCING ANSWER

Railroad Leaders Say That to Give in to Wilson's Demands Would Spell Bankruptcy for Them.

Special to the Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The railway strike situation is at its most serious point today. President Wilson this afternoon explained to the railway presidents summoned by him that they must make concessions to the men or take the responsibility before the country for the labor troubles.

During the morning the railway presidents conferred with their committee managers and they approved all that had been done without qualification, and ordered them to prepare powerful arguments to back them up in their claim that to accept the president's solution would spell bankruptcy for the railroads, and would sound the death knell of arbitration. To settle the labor disputes they secured a postponement to their planned conference with President Wilson from 11:30 to 2 o'clock this afternoon. The general situation is admittedly charged with dynamite, but the White House officials expressed the utmost confidence that the skies would clear and that eventually both sides would agree to the plan of the president.

Confer With President.

The railroad presidents went into conference with the president at 1.52 this afternoon. None of them made any statement for publication before the conference. The brotherhood delegates started to ballot at 1 o'clock on whether to accept the president's proposition, but upon motion adjourned until 3 o'clock.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The order for uninterrupted attention in the conference of the railway presidents today, President Wilson again today cancelled the regular cabinet meeting. Shortly before ten o'clock President Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, telegraphed Secretary Tumulty requesting that the conference with the railroad presidents be postponed until later in the day. President Wilson consented to setting 2:00 this afternoon as the hour.

"A vote for Hughes is a vote for me."—T. R. For me? For what?

The Republican candidate has now abundant opportunities to explain just what he was driving at in his speech of acceptance. He may yet develop an issue to which to address himself.

The same man who four years ago placed the name of William H. Taft before the convention which led to the formation of the Progressive party made the keynote speech at the convention which nominated Mr. Hughes and also the speech notifying that gentleman of his nomination for the presidency. How do Progressives warm up to that?

JUDGE LAMM FACES SCRAP.

Is Wanting Jep Howe of St. Louis for State Chairman and W. S. Dickey is Opposed.

Personalities are likely to be injected into the controversy over the chairmanship of the Republican state committee, which has simmered down between T. W. Hukriede of Warrenton, the incumbent, and Jeptha D. Howe of St. Louis.

Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City, Republican nominee for United States Senator, is backing Hukriede, who claims enough votes pledged to re-elect him. Former Judge Henry Lamm, Republican candidate for governor, openly announces it is his wish to have Howe made chairman.

Friends of the Hukriede-Dickey faction contend that as they have enough votes to score a victory Tuesday at Jefferson City, they will not accede to Judge Lamm's wishes.

Since 1904, when the Republicans met at St. Joseph, it has been the custom to permit the gubernatorial candidate to name the state chairman. Former Governor Herbert S. Hadley named Dickey as chairman, John C. McKinley selected Politte Elvins and right as Hadley and McKinley. Governor Major named D. C. McClung as Judge Lamm contends he has the same head of the Democratic state committee, and Col. Frederick D. Gardner, the Democratic standard bearer in the present campaign, suggested James Cowgill for chairman of the Democratic state committee.

It was hinted at the Lamm headquarters in St. Louis that if Hukriede is made chairman, Judge Lamm will ask Howe to handle his campaign indeepndent of the Republican state committee.

INJURED MAN RECOVERING.

D. D. Flynn, Who Was in Auto Accident in St. Joseph, is at His Parents' Home in Ravenwood.

David D. Flynn, who was injured in an automobile accident in St. Joseph Sunday, was brought to the home of his parents in Ravenwood and is getting along nicely. The following is an account of the accident as taken from the St. Joseph Gazette:

An automobile containing Miss Marie Carey, 218 East Missouri avenue, and D. D. Flynn, who rooms at the Y. M. C. A., skidded and turned over yesterday forenoon at King Hill and Cherokee avenues. Both occupants of the motor car were thrown to the pavement and severely injured. Flynn, the worst injured of the two, received broken bones in the left foot and a deep cut in the scalp. Miss Carey suffered numerous bruises on the body, but no broken bones. They were carried to the South Side fire station at King Hill and Illinois avenues, and later were taken in automobiles to the Carey home, where they received medical attention from Dr. F. G. Weary. Miss Carey is 22 years old and is a stenographer. Flynn is 25 years old, and is employed as a clerk for the International Harvester company.

When the accident happened, the automobile was being driven south on King Hill avenue. As the machine neared Cherokee avenue, where there is a slight depression in the pavement, it skidded on the slippery bricks and turned over. The automobile was not badly damaged.

RETURNS AFTER 44 YEARS.

Mrs. Melinda Neal of Hoyt, Kan., Visits Relatives and Friends.

Mrs. Melinda Neal, nee Noffsinger, of Hoyt, Kan., who has been visiting here with relatives and friends for several days, left for her home Tuesday morning. Mrs. Neal formerly lived with her parents about a quarter of a mile north of the east side of town, on the Aaron Linville farm, the buildings having been torn down years ago. With her parents she moved to Kansas forty-four years ago and this is her first visit back here. She said there was nothing around that looked anyways familiar except that the Florida Park cemetery had some landmarks that had not altogether vanished.

Although living in a state where women vote, Mrs. Neal is not much interested in politics, having exercised the right of franchise only once.

Mrs. Neal's husband has been dead about twenty years. She has two daughters and two sons, all of whom are married but one son.—Skidmore news.

FARM LOAN ACT UP

LIMITATIONS OF MEASURE WILL BE SET FORTH DEC. 4-9.

CONFERENCE AT CHICAGO

Representatives of Farmers' Organizations Will Join With University Professors in Working.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—The federal farm loan act will be overhauled and its limitations set forth at the Fourth National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits, called to meet at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, December 4-9., 1916.

Delegations from all the states are expected. Representatives of farmers' organizations will join with university professors and men from other interested lines in working over the act so that the American farmer may know what to expect under its terms and what are the next steps in securing adequate credit accommodations.

Delegates will devise constructive programs looking toward a comprehensive land policy for the United States. The policy is to include practical plans for turning tenant farmers into home owners, and moving landless men to the land. How to handle the immigrant and other after-the-war questions will be discussed.

The marketing feature of the conference will feature waste. Surveys are to be made prior to the meeting that will show the movement of crops such as live stock, grain, cotton and hay, according to Secretary Charles W. Holman of Madison, Wis. These surveys will be presented to the delegates for their information.

The milk problem will also be worked out in its relation to distribution in large cities like Chicago, Milwaukee, New York City, Cleveland, San Francisco and Boston. The conference will draw and attempt to put into execution practical plans for eliminating waste, improving the quality of farm products marketed and increasing the consumption of certain farm commodities. State and federal aspects of these questions will receive treatment.

The National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits is now in its fourth year and will for the fourth time meet in Chicago. Last year its sessions were attended by delegations from forty-six states and from several provinces in Canada. The conference itself is an open forum for clarifying of public thought. Prominent on its general committee are Chairman F. L. McVey, president of the university of North Dakota; Gifford Pinchot, Milford, Pa.; Charles McCarthy, Madison, Wis.; E. T. Meridith, Des Moines, Ia.; Col. Frank P. Holland, Dallas, Texas; J. C. Caldwell, Lakefield, Minn.; H. C. Sampson, Spokane, Wash.; Lou D. Sweet, Denver, Colo.; Clarence Poe, Raleigh, N. Burlington Junction Boy Completes Transcript of Murder Cases.

The following is taken from the Ft. Collins (Colo.) Courier concerning Ralph Nicholas, a former Burlington Junction boy: Present and past court reporters in the district court declare that the transcript of the Dickens case is the largest which has ever been made in the eighth judicial district. Ralph Nicholas, stenographer for the district court under Judge Graham has just completed the transcript of the evidence in the favous murder case, tried in Boulder. He worked continuously for forty-one days on the transcript to get it out for the attorneys handling the defense. They will use it to carry the case to the supreme court. The document which Nicholas turned over to the Longmont attorneys required 2,045 sheets, each containing approximately 250 words, and there were furnished three copies of it. There are 511,250 words in each of the volumes. Mr. Nicholas confined himself to this task exclusively during the forty-one days.—Burlington Junction Post.

M'DANIEL SEES SUSPICION.

"I Know I'm Suspected of Wife Murder," St. Joseph Prosecutor Says.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 18.—Oscar D. McDaniel, prosecuting attorney here, said yesterday he realized he was suspected by some persons of having murdered his wife, who was beaten to death July 14. He added that he was aware that two Burns detectives were in the city seeking to connect him with the crime.

McDaniel said he had reason to believe the detectives were employed by persons he had prosecuted the last two years. He said enemies had accused him of unfaithfulness to his wife, and that it was upon that ground and the fact he was the last person seen with his wife and the first to discover her following the murder, that led others to connect him with the crime.

Letters referring to the murder received lately are said to have been written by a left handed person, and th position of Mrs. McDaniel's body, when found, indicated she had been beaten by a left handed person. McDaniel says he is naturally left handed, but that he writes with his right hand.

"It is a most uncanny feeling to know that you are thought to have murdered your own wife," McDaniel said. "However, I feel that the assassin eventually will be captured, and that will clear me."

WAR AIDS SUFFRAGE

SPLENDID WORK OF LONDON WOMEN WILL BRING VICTORY.

EFFICIENCY IS CAUSE

Part Feminine Element Has Played in Conflict is Greatest Surprise of All —Show Great Physical Force.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Aug. 18.—Writing in a London newspaper, J. M. Hogge, a prominent member of Parliament, predicts victory for the women suffragists as a result of the splendid work women are doing to assist in the prosecution of the war. He says:

"Women have done splendidly during the war, from the mother, who has given her son and watches the casualty list with anxiety through the long weary months, to the woman who is doing navy work in our munition factories.

"The fact of women has been made patent to the most cynical womanhater. She has become ubiquitous, and what she is doing is daily convincing skeptics about her vote. Personally, I have never had any difficulty about the franchise, as I am in favor of every one having a vote at the age of twenty-one.

"I do not doubt that if the man in the field and in hospitals recovering from honorable wounds were asked they would enthusiastically agree to put the Red Cross nurse on any franchise she desired. But this is true of more than the Red Cross nurse. Wherever women are working and whatever they are doing, they are impressing the public mind with the ability, the thoroughness, and the efficiency of their work.

"To lose the interest of these zealous women in the days to come would be pure folly, and the only way to retain this interest in the great national movement is to give them the vote, which concession I feel is now bound to come.

"We are looking forward to a new patriotism, or rather an intensified patriotism, after the war. Woman more than man can assist in that renaissance, and to leave them out of any new register would be to put a damper on their enthusiasm, and induce in them the regrettable feeling that the nation was prepared to use them when their services were most necessary, valuable and indispensable, and to side-track them with little show of gratitude and even less consideration when the need for those services had disappeared.

"To many people the part that women have played during the war has been the greatest surprise of all. They never suspected before the great conflict broke out that the woman could adapt herself to so many purposes. It never occurred to them that the day would come when woman's labor would be substituted for man's labor in practically every sphere of usefulness—in banks, the country house, the factory, on the tram-way car and the railway; indeed, wherever the demand for labor has arisen woman has responded to the call and shown herself competent to fit the job.

"If women can do the work of man they can debate the problems connected with that work as ably; they can form opinions about the daily interests of life as accurately, and they can exercise the franchise as intelligently.

"The opponents of the franchise for women before the war more or less argued that political power must ultimately rest upon physical force. Woman has shown her physical force in productive channels that have materially assisted the nation to prosecute the war. Her war work has been a definite form of physical force, and those who put their reliance upon this argument have had it rudely shattered by the facts.

"The munitions have destroyed the last refuge of the anti-suffragist."

Visits Mountains and Returns a Greatly Changed Boy.

New York.—Donald, the twelve-year-old son of H. S. Rushmore of Jamaica, N. Y., went to Mount Beacon, N. Y., for a rest.

"When Donald went away," said his father, "he was four feet ten inches in height and weighed seventy-two pounds. He had always been a light eater. When he got back eight days later Mrs. Rushmore was so amazed at the change in his appearance that we measured him again and found he was five feet two and three-quarters high and weighed eighty-two pounds.

"A friend of mine who lived in this same house (83 Shelton avenue) sent his fifteen-year-old son last year up to the mountains in Maine, and he grew five inches in five weeks."

GIRL, 12, CHIEF EDITOR OF PEANUT MONTHLY

Alexandria (La.) Paper Published and Managed by Her Considered Newsy Publication.

Alexandria, La.—Hey, cub! You guy over there with the oblique tilt to your ivory dome, you's proud of your present journalistic aspirations and past accomplishments?

And how old are you? Twenty? And only a cub!

Well, you had better come back to earth and go stick your head in the byproducts plant, because you're totally eclipsed.

Ethleen Milburn is almost twelve years old (you're twenty), is a girl (you're only one year less than a man), has bright golden hair (yours is turning gray) and is an editor in chief (you're only a kittenish cub).

Yes, the Peanut Monthly, Miss Ethleen Milburn, publisher and managing editor, is Alexandria's newest and newsiest publication.

The sheet has all the distinguishing features of the regular journal it is, including the "social column," "personals," "movie news," "editorials," "housewife corner," and the price is only 3 cents for home people, 5 cents by mail. Want ads. bring 1 cent per line.

Miss Noodles Randolph, the editor's school chum, is the circulating manager and has just turned in three new subscriptions.

Here are a few typically interesting news items:

"To get fat—address the editress of this paper."

"There are 2,000 soldiers in Camp Stafford. Gee, girls, but you are lucky!"

"Accidents. Mrs. Hazel Clay has a terrible cold."

"John Bule, Jr., got a spanking last night—a very unusual thing."

NEARLY KILLED BY SKEETERS

Almost Drain Life Blood From Young Man In Indiana.

Michigan City, Ind.—Crazed by loss of blood, exposure and lack of food, his body covered with mosquito bites and clad only in a shirt, Stanley Bolowski, twenty-three years old, was found in a marsh near here. His face and body were so swollen from the attacks of the insects he was almost unrecognizable. As he had been missing from his home for several days, he is said to have wandered in the swamps since that time.

Railroad employees discovered Bolowski, and he was taken to a hospital. He was employed as a riveter until May 30, when he was thrown out of employment. Physicians marveled that Bolowski is alive. They believe he suffered a sunstroke or was overcome by heat. A great deal of blood was drained from his body by mosquitoes. He will recover.

ARMY BANS WATERMELON.

Breeds Flies, as Rind Can't Be Effectively Destroyed.

El Paso, Tex.—Gloom spread over the army camps here with the news that watermelons have been banned by the authorities.

It is not that melons of the southwest carry infection or that they are unwholesome. The army fly expert is behind the order. He has discovered that watermelon rind is the only kind of garbage that cannot be properly burned or effectively buried. To watermelon rind is attributed the present fly pest, and flies, says the expert, breed disease.

TAGGART'S DOG IN CAPITOL.

He Leads Pointer to Democratic Cloak Room—Page Watches Him.

Washington.—Senator Tom Taggart introduced an innovation in the senate recently that stirred that austere body to mild revolt. Taggart led a pointer dog into the Democratic cloakroom, it was learned.

The senator from Indiana said he did not take the dog into the senate chamber. He declared that it was a valuable dog, and he did not care to turn him adrift. A senate page guarded the canine during the session.

FURNISH LIFE BLOOD

PERSONS WELL OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS HELP OTHERS.

Doctors Find That Former Patients Can Benefit Stricken Ones by Furnishing Fluid.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

New York, Aug. 18.—Unselfishness is commoner than most people believe, I thought, as I saw young men and women and even children crowd into Dr. Abraham Zingher's office at Willard Parker hospital. They came to give their blood for the sake of sufferers they had never seen.

These men and women and children were all cripples.

They were well now, but each had a limp arm or a shortened leg resulting from an attack of infantile paralysis some time, perhaps many years ago.

Without hope of reward, except the satisfaction that comes from all good deeds, they responded to the physician's appeal for the life fluid of recovered poliomyelitis patients, which has been discovered to benefit those just stricken down and still struggling against the terrible fever of the acute stages.

One of the men from whom blood was taken had both a twisted leg and a limp arm.

"I've had a tough time of it," he confided to Dr. Zingher, "ever since the disease left me this way as a child. I've had jobs and have had to give them up because I couldn't do the work. Vicious people have made me the butt of their fun and sensitive people have hurt me as much by avoiding me as if I were an unclean thing.

"All my life I've felt that I had no place in the world; that I was left out of everything worth while—until today. Now I feel that I am of some use. I can save others from my own fate."

Another volunteer was a youth, who said:

"Don't tell my parents, please, doctor. They would be frightened if they knew I was giving blood, for they do everything to make my life full and happy. But of what use are all their efforts? I'm no good, anyhow, so if all my blood will save others, take it."

The blood is carefully and almost painlessly drawn. The only ill effects those giving it feel are sometimes a slight weakness, which passes off in a day or two.

FOX FILM AT FERN TONIGHT

William Farnum Scores Gigantic Triumph in "A Man of Sorrow."

Frederick Lendon, a failure from drink, deserts his motherless baby, Nance, leaves home and marries again. Drink once more causes his ruin and he deserts his second wife and their baby, Jess. Nance is adopted by Simon Lezzard, a neighbor, and Jess is left by her mother in the care of gypsies. The half-sisters grow up, each unaware of the other's existence. Mark, the son of Simon Lezzard, loves Nance, but she rejects him to marry Jack Hewlitt (William Farnum), whom she has reclaimed from the drink habit. Following the marriage, Mark conceals his hatred for Jack, but he does everything in his power to bring about the latter's undoing.

Frederick Lendon, the father, has prospered in the west, and, driven by conscience, he returns to Crow Corners in an effort to find his daughter, Nance. Lendon, who is a victim of heart trouble, arrives at his journey's end weak and ill, only to fall into the clutches of Mary Lezzard and the latter's unscrupulous partner, Kridge. He tells these two his mission and that he has brought with him money and valuable securities in his satchel. As the result of this information, when Lendon suffers an attack of heart trouble, the scheming partners kill him and appropriate the contents of his satchel. They tell the authorities that the dead man is Mark's cousin, and his death is attributed to heart failure.

Mark, who still nourishes his passion for Nance, holds the mortgage on the home of her husband, Jack. While Jack is absent trying to raise money to meet the mortgage, Mark calls on Nance and offers to extend the mortgage if she will give herself to him. Nance runs from the house pursued by Mark, who, as he reaches the gate, is confronted by Nance's exact counterpart—Jess. The latter, with her gypsy lover, Tom Lattiker, has been driven from the gypsy camp. Possessed of a sudden idea, Mark induces Jess to don Nance's shawl and make open love to her gypsy sweetheart on the principal street of Crow Corners. The villagers are shocked at this apparently open scandal, and Jack is soon informed of the seeming misconduct of his wife. He witnesses the love making of Jess and her sweetheart, and, assuming that Jess is his wife, leaves home and goes to New York, where he once more falls into evil ways.

In their wanderings, Jess and her gypsy sweetheart also reach the city, where Tom casts her off for a beauty of the dance halls. Jess, ill and despondent, throws herself into the river. She is rescued by Jack, who mistakes her for his wife. Jess, however, undeceives him, and at last he learns about the conspiracy of which he and Nance have been the victims. Jess dies in his arms. Jack prepares at once to return home to the woman he unjustly accused.

In the meautime, the authorities in the western home city of the wealthy Frederick Lendon have received no word from him since he left for Crow Corners. Inquiry brings out the news that he disappeared almost as soon as he reached the village. Clever detective work establishes the fact of his death and also Mark Lezzard's connection therewith. Mark and Kridge are ultimately brought to justice and Jack and Nance are happily re-united and receive the fortune rightfully theirs.

COLLINS MAKES A HIT.

Shenandoah Paper Speaks of His Scaling the Buildings There This Week.

The following is from the Shenandoah World:

The Human Fly, known at his home in Maryville at Maynard Collins, has been scaling the buildings in the business district of Shenandoah just for the purpose of attracting crowds on the street. He has scaled the Cooper-West buildings, the Zenith theater, the Andrews store building and others. Wednesday at noon he attempted to go up the old opera house building, but when he arrived near the top he found the cornice work on it was too loose to hold his weight, so he came down.

This young fellow weighs only about 100 pounds and is doing a lot of stunts at the fair grounds. He is with Prof. Heerey to attract crowds, but proves a most interesting feature.

DECORATE BURTON AS HERO

Mayor of Royal Engineers Rewarded With "American Cross of Honor" for Rescuing Hospital Ship.

Special to the Democrat-Forum.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Aug. 18.—A fine piece of seamanship on the part of Major H. Burton, and officer of the Royal Engineers and superintendent of the Tynemouth motor lifeboat, has been rewarded by the board of directors with their famous decoration known as "The American Cross of Honor."

Just how this title came to be given to the decoration is not known. The award is issued every two years to the person who has performed the most heroic deed in life-saving during that period.

It was on October 30, 1914, that Major Burton took out the lifeboat to proceed to the rescue of the wrecked hospital ship Rohilla, and in the face of a terrific gale and a raging sea brought the Tynemouth motor lifeboat all the way back to Whitby, in Yorkshire, with a number of the saved crew on board—a distance of 44 sea miles.

In the course of this wonderful voyage the Major kept up the hearts of all on board and navigated the lifeboat through the night and storm unaided by coast lights or any other means of reaching his objective. The coast lights, of course, were extinguished on account of the war.

IMPERIAL FAMILY WEALTHY

Japanese Emperor Has Fortune of $250,000,000—Salary Amounts to $15,000,000.

Tokyo, Aug. 18.—The Japanese Imperial family has a fortune of $250,000,000. The emperor receives in addition a yearly allowance of $15,000,000 from the state.

The figures are taken from a Japanese source and their accuracy is guaranteed. The capital is made up of shares in various gilt-edged undertakings, among them the Bank of Japan, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Yokahama Specie Bank. The Emperor is also interested in the Imperial Hotel, Tokyo, which is largely patronized by American tourists.

Since the majority of the concerns mentioned are subsidized out of taxes it is impossible for the imperial holdings to show a loss. The balance of the sum is made up by large holdings of land, including forests covering 2,130,000 acres and prairie land extending to 150,000 acres.

The imperial palaces and villas are not enumerated. If they were the imperial property would be valued at a much higher figure.

The revenue is expended in paying salaries of officials of the court, entertainments, pensions and social expenses. These expenditures are said to be the heaviest in the world, but there must be a huge balance after everything has been paid. This becomes the emperor's private property, and the capital of the imperial family is said to be increasing at the rate of 20 per cent per year. Part of the investments represent the emperor's share of the indemnity received from China after the war with Japan.

CELEBRATE NEW ALLIANCE

Reception and Banquet at Many Tokyo Gatherings to Observe Cementing of Russo-Japanese Treaty.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Tokyo, Aug. 18.—In all the big centers of Japan public gatherings have been held in celebration of the completion of the Russo-Japanese alliance. These have invariably taken the same form—a reception and banquet given by the mayor and telegrams of congratulation to the Japanese and Russian governments. In the evening lantern processions were held to give the populace a share in the fun. The Russian embassy in Tokyo, a building with many different experiences, has had the unusual sensation of being repeatedly besieged by cheering crowds roaring out banzais for the Czar and the brave Russian army.

All the demonstrations are of course inspired from above and are of interest principally as examples of how "public opinion" is operated. Business men, however, are genuinely glad of the new alliance, as it opens up valuable concessions in Siberia and Manchuria and also, as they think, gives them leverage to protest against any further army increases with their corresponding advances in the heavy taxation for military purposes which this country already groans under.

To Make Western Trip in Wagon.

Bernie Daniels and wife and Harve Waugh and wife will leave here Friday for the west, headed for Colorado, in a covered wagon. They are taking all the things that go to make a camping outfit and expect to be gone three months at least. The trip is being made for the benefit of Mrs. Daniels' health.—Barnard Bulletin.

Mrs. S. A. Smith of Beloit, Kan., is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. E. Farrar of North Buchanan street.

Women's Missionary Society. Most Successful Session.

The Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church held their annual all-day meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Snyder, on Prather avenue. The meeting, which was considered by the members the most successful event in the society this year, was made the occasion for honoring the Rev. and Mrs. William Moll Case, who leave soon for their new home in Oregon, and Mrs. W. H. Crawford, who will go to her new home in Horton, Kan., soon.

The members of the Mens club of the church were invited to attend the picnic dinner which was served at noon, and about fifty persons partook of the good things furnished by the society. After the dinner a musical program was given, Mrs. Case, Mrs. Crawford, Miss Helen Rose Crawford, Miss Fay Farmer taking part. Then the regular meeting of the club was held, and Mrs. Staple and Mrs. Crawford led the discussion on Chinese missions.

The social hour was next in order, during which the social committee, consisting of Mrs. R. H. Duncan, Mrs. Fred Jamison and Miss Lizzie Sawyers served refreshments.
